Invite you to “The Real Transcript of W.C. Fields Murder Trial (of a Canary), 1928”

Date: Monday, December 21, 2015

Time: 7:00pm with Q&A after

Where: The American Theatre of Actors – in the actual courtroom of the Trial
314 W. 54th Street, New York, NY
John Cullum Theatre, (2nd floor) in the Midtown Community Court

2015 YEAR OF W.C. FIELDS—100TH ANNIVERSARY IN FILM!
100TH ANNIVERSARY STARRING ON BROADWAY!

Please join us for a reenactment of the actual trial. While performing in Earl Carroll Vanities on Broadway, W.C. Fields was arrested and handcuffed in the Theatre, thrown in jail overnight, and appeared in Court the next day.... Yes, a true story, suspenseful, absurd, and could have thwarted the Great Man’s Hollywood career in talking pictures – and might never have become the Icon of American Culture and Humor (Librarian of Congress).

We look forward to seeing you, and don’t miss the Tribute in the Lobby to W.C. Fields and the Trial on permanent display. Truly, steeped in Broadway history and present for generations to come.
